

Dear Ministry Partner,

The most common question we have been asked in the last two years is, “What will you be doing at the ministry headquarters?” I (Nathan) have always felt the Lord directing me to use my technical skills in the Internet/Technology field but until this point, we did not know exactly how. The week following Memorial Day we were invited to bring our entire family to Little Rock, Arkansas to determine exactly how Jennifer and I will serve at the headquarters.

During our trip, we were informed that our resumes caught Dennis Rainey’s attention and he asked to have a meeting with Jennifer and I. Dennis is the Founder/CEO of FamilyLife. We talked about the need for FamilyLife to be using new technology in order to learn the needs of families today; and then use various forms of technology to help reach families more effectively all around the world.

We also had the opportunity to meet with four different department leaders and each one had ways that I could plug-in and be an asset. FamilyLife determined that the best way to use my technical skills was to develop a new position that will work across various departments. My job will be to use/adapt new technology to help make FamilyLife’s resources and outreaches be more impactful and effective. I am very excited to plug-in and start working to make this vision a reality.

Throughout our visit there were several service opportunities presented to Jennifer as well. Since Jennifer is gifted in the aspect of connecting with people and encouraging others, she feels the position of a “Homebuilder Coach” fits her best. A Homebuilder Coach is someone that helps local churches and lay-leaders develop a strong marriage/family ministry in their church or community.

We were blessed to have our friends Matt and Tory Angell (FamilyLife Staff) host our family for the week. Lucas and Allison really enjoyed playing with the “Angell boys”, Zachary and Jacob. Matt and Tory are expecting a baby in September. Allison is really hoping it is a girl! We believe the move to Arkansas will be an easy adjustment for Lucas and Allison. They are already excited to return again to spend more time with their new friends.

We are so thankful to have 90% of our financial support pledged! FamilyLife has given us a goal of finishing by July 13. We are excited to see how the Lord will raise the remaining 10% of our support in the next 5 weeks. Thank you for your continued prayers and support as we start the transition of moving to FamilyLife’s headquarters to work full-time to reach marriages and families for Christ!
